

A lecture on physicality and games at RMIT, Australia, has begun, and will include many works around Exertion Interfaces.

The lecture's blog is at gameslecture.blogspot.com including great comments from the students.